THE MOST HOLY BODY AND BLOOD OF CHRIST

June 18, 2017

*The bread that we break,
is it not a participation
in the body of Christ?*

*Because the loaf
of bread is one,
we, though many,
are one body,
for we all partake
of the one loaf.*

1 CORINTHIANS 10:16-17

THE MOST HOLY BODY AND BLOOD OF CHRIST JUNE 18, 2017

HOLY SPIRIT, BRING TO US A DESIRE FOR EUCHARISTIC ADORATION

St. Mother Teresa of Calcutta said, "When we look at the cross, we know how much Jesus loved us. When we look at the tabernacle, we know how much Jesus loves us now". St. Pope John Paul II says this: "The Church and the world have a great need of Eucharistic worship". Jesus waits for us in this sacrament of love. Let us be generous with our time in going to meet Him in adoration. Notice how the Holy Father is asking you to be generous with your time. He is not asking for your money but something much more precious – your time.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR PASTOR

The feast of Corpus Christi ("Body and Blood of Christ") was established by the Church to remind us how superlative a gift we have in the Holy Eucharist. We can never honor this sacrament enough; but as the sequence for today's Mass urges us, we should try our best to: "Bring Him all the praise you know!"

One way in which we can honor the Eucharistic Christ is to prepare carefully to receive Holy Communion. The primary preparation is, of course, spiritual: we should NEVER, NEVER receive with mortal sins on our souls. That would be to dishonor, not honor, Him.

Two little stories show how we can also be prepared bodily to give Him honorable welcome.

The first story deals with Lucia Santos' first communion. Sister Lucia, one of the three visionaries of Fatima, recalled the joy of her first Holy Communion in her memoirs. Aided by her older sisters, she dressed in her long white First Communion dress, put on her wreath of flowers, and according to Portuguese custom, knelt and asked her parents' blessing. Her mother told her to resolve to become a saint. Then Lucy's bigger brother took up the first communicant in his arms and carried her all the way to church. Why? Not because she was disabled, but because they didn't want even a speck of dust to soil her when she received Jesus.

The second story deals with Pope Pius XII.

Older Catholics will recall that in bygone days when Mass could be offered no later than noon, those who intended to receive communion had to abstain from midnight from all food (including medicine) and all liquid (including even water). It was to give the body a "reverent hunger" for the Bread of Angels.

Times change, however. After World War II evening Masses were permitted. Also, many people in our pain-ridden society needed to take medicine. Consequently, in 1953, Pope Pius XII graciously reduced the Eucharistic fast to three hours, and allowed water and medicines to be taken at any time. Most Catholics welcomed the relaxation. (Pope Paul VI carried it still farther in 1964 when he set the present requirement – only one hour of fasting before receiving.)

What did Pius XII think of the changes he had made to the law? Did he not rejoice as Pope, since the Pope so often had to celebrate long morning Masses that didn't allow him to eat breakfast until 2 p.m.?

Sister Pascalina Lehnert, as the housekeeper of Pope Pius XII, knew his habits well. Three years after his death, Sister Pascalina told an American priest that the Pope had never taken advantage of his own, easier rule. Until his dying day he fasted from midnight before saying Mass. He would not even take water.

We can't repeat the reverence Lucia Santos showed for the Eucharist at her First Communion. But we can at least be sure that we approach the altar clean and modestly dressed.

We don't have to fast from midnight anymore. But we may do so, especially when we are attending a morning Mass. It is still a good way of saying "thank you" to Jesus. It is one response to today's hymn: "Bring Him all the praise you know."

PRO-LIFE

"Taking into account these distinctions, in harmony with the Magisterium of my Predecessors and in communion with the Bishops of the Catholic Church, I confirm that euthanasia is a grave violation of the law of God, since it is the deliberate and morally unacceptable killing of a human person. This doctrine is based upon the natural law and upon the written word of God, is transmitted by the Church's Tradition and taught by the ordinary and universal Magisterium."
