A MESSAGE FROM OUR PASTOR

At Babel, says the Book of Genesis, God "confused the speech of all the world." Since then one of the most powerful factors keeping people apart and unfriendly is the inability of one nation to understand what the other nations are saying. This is sad, and certainly out of harmony with God's ideal. Occasionally, He shows us that to remind us that after the resurrection of the dead the whole world will once more "speak the same language" (Genesis 11:1).

Sometimes He hints at this by natural means. In our time, for instance, He has given us Pope Saint John Paul II, who had a gift for learning languages. When he addressed people of the major language groups, he spoke in their own vernaculars. In scripture, God gave a miraculous gift of tongues to the Apostles on Pentecost. They spoke to the crowds of Jerusalem in their own Aramaic tongue; but those who did not speak Aramaic heard the words in their own languages: "Each of us hears them speaking in their own tongue" (Today's first reading).

Even if we are not gifted by wit or the ability to speak many languages, there is one language which we all can speak, and everyone can understand. Saint Rose Philippine Duchesne spoke this language. Rose (1764-1852) was the foundress in this country of the Society of the Sacred Heart. She spent most of her life in the United States in Missouri, teaching school to children of European background; but it was her dream to teach Native American children. Finally, in 1841, when she was 72, this devout nun got her wish, establishing a school in Kansas for Potawatomi Indian girls. Practically, she proved a failure as a teacher because she could not learn the difficult Indian language. But she could and did take care for the sick and pray for the Indians. This, the Potawatomi understood and appreciated. In fact, they called her "QUAH-KAH-KANUM-AD" which meant "Woman Who Prays Always". People of every nation appreciate the language of love.

The Reverend Edward J. Smith, Pastor
